WIFE DENIES HUSBAND'S CHARGES IN DIVORCE SUIT.

Guilt of No Wrongful Regulations With Wealthy Negro Named.

Greensboro, N. C., March 17.—The defense in the trial in United States court here of the case of Mrs. Florence C. Varner against her husband, H. B. Varner of Lexington, N. C., for "reasonable subsistence," sprung a surprise when, at the conclusion of direct examination of Mrs. Varner, during which she stoutly denied ever having had any wrongful relations with R. Baxter McRary, a wealthy Negro of Lexington, dismissed the witness from the stand without cross-examination.

Another interesting feature of the trial was the reading of McRary's deposition, he now being ill in a hospital in Cincinnati. He denied having ever been intimate with Mrs. Varner, the defendant said that she had visited her a number of times.

On the night of August 9, 1920, when it is alleged McRary was pulled from under the Varner home, and which resulted in McRary's leaving Lexington and Mr. Varner instituting suit for $100,000 against McRary, the defendant said that she left the post office in Lexington to see a light in the kitchen of the Varner home, and believing that Annie Miller was up, he decided to go and see her about the date on the payment of a note; that he entered the house. He heard some noise at the front door, he said, and he heard his name used and something about searching the house, and that he became excited and got under the porch. He told of spending the night in jail, of being turned out next morning.

PROMINENT MEN SEEK LEGISLATION MOB FOR ALABAMA.

Birmingham, Ala., March 17.—Endorsement of legislation to keep down mob violence is seeking to have enacted on the subject has been given by former Governor Jimmie O'Neal, former Senator Frank S. White, Judge H. B. Jelks, Judge William E. Fort, E. H. Cabanis and others. Letters chamber sent out by the junior senator to every member of the legislature urging favorable consideration of the proposed legislation if a special session of the legislature is called by the governor.

If the governor does not include consideration of the bill in his call for the special session, it is announced that the junior chamber will make an effort to have the bill considered by a two-thirds vote of the house. The junior chamber has suggested impeachment of all sheriffs who suggested making it their case for the defense of prisoners at the hands of mobs, the fact that never in the history of Alabama has a sheriff been shot while defending his prisoner, and never has a prisoner been taken from a sheriff's custody where real resistance was offered to a mob.

Governor O'Neal is one of the enthusiastic advocates of the proposed bill. "At the constitutional convention we tried to get this legislation passed," said Governor O'Neal, "but we failed because the sheriffs and their friends made such a vigorous fight against it. They threatened the work of the convention itself. Sheriffs should be required to protect their prisoners. A locomotive engineer sticks by his engine in the face of certain death when he believes he has a chance to save his passengers. Why shouldn't a sheriff be required to defend his prisoner with the same resolution? If legislation of this kind were passed, as sheriff's friends, knowing he would be impeached if they took his prisoner from him, would not make the attempt. A sheriff is usually a popular man in his own county."
